The Bureau of Internet

ACCESSIBILITY

HELPING YOU ACHIEVE, MAINTAIN & PROVE DIGITAL COMPLIANCE

BUREAU OF INTERNET
ACCESSIBILITY

Since 2001 the mission of the BoIA team consisting of 150+ digital accessibility professionals have been to make the Internet accessible to everyone. Our focused objective is to help organizations of all sizes achieve, maintain and prove website compliance thanks to our years of experience and proprietary platforms, tools, reports and interactive services.

The Mission of The BoIA Team

The mission of the BoIA team is to make the Internet accessible to everyone. Our 19 years of experience and implementation of thousands of clients gives our team of 150 accessibility professionals the confidence to succeed in our mission.

The Bureau of Internet Accessibility (BoIA) has been helping eliminate accessibility's digital divide since 2001. We have the experience and expertise to ensure that your accessibility efforts are worthwhile and successful. Led by a strong management team with expertise in compliance, user interface design and software development, BoIA is committed to making the World Wide Web accessible to everyone.

We've earned a successful track record and reputation for helping clients across a variety of industries to make their web presence accessible to all end users. While website accessibility guidelines are standardized, each industry has its own specific concerns and requirements, calling for a somewhat unique and tailored approach. Some of the industries that BoIA has focused on include Online Retail, Travel & Hospitality; Local, State and Federal Government; Non-Profit; Education; Financial; Healthcare; and more.

Bottom line: we're here to help proactive organizations achieve, maintain and prove website compliance in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), which is a comprehensive federal civil rights law prohibiting discrimination on the basis of disability issued by the Department of Justice (DOJ) as per the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1 A/AA.

Thanks to our platform-specific tools, technologies, customized audits, user interface design, software development and interactive services, the BoIA has audited more than 51,000 websites in an effort to help our clients ensure that their websites are accessible to everyone, regardless of any particular disability or impairment.
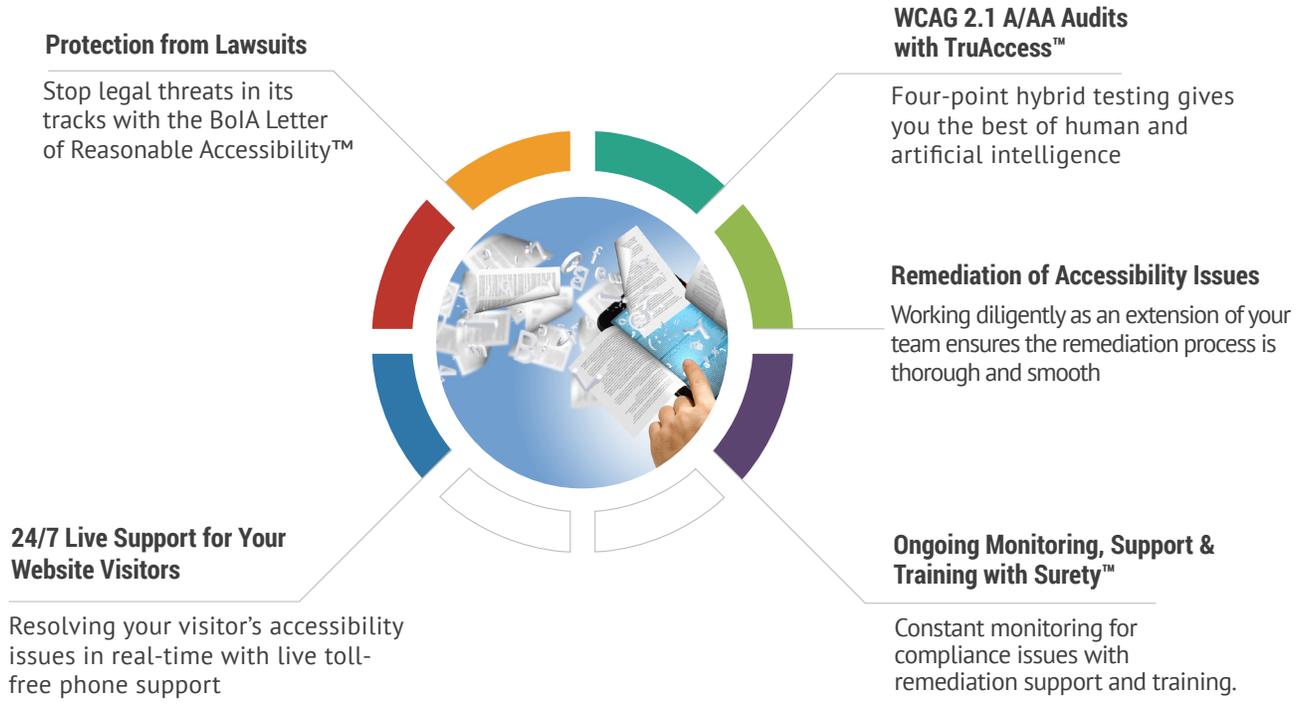

Making The Internet Accessible to Everyone

When a website is designed and developed with accessibility in mind, it endows all individuals — including the 1 in 5 people with visual, auditory, physical, speech, cognitive, neurological and other disabilities — with the power to access the web with assistive technology. These technologies include screen readers, braille encoders, and even devices that can track eye movement, replacing a keyboard and mouse. BoIA leverages the human factor – real people with disabilities who can test your website, using assistive technology, for compliance and accessibility issues – in addition to our leading-edge technology assets. And because technology advances year after year, organizations require a trusted partner such as the BoIA to help them keep pace and ensure their websites are both compliant and accessible year after year to avoid facing penalties and lawsuits, which can cost thousands of dollars in legal fees and damage your reputation and brand alike. Below is just a small sample of the organizations that we continue to help thanks to our decades of proven expertise.

WCAG 2.1 A/AA AUDITS & REMEDIATION SUPPORT:

Regulatory compliance with digital accessibility laws, regulations, and standards are complex. Many organizations are required to prove compliance to differing website accessibility authorities, including the Federal Standard Section 508 and WCAG 2.1 A/AA. BoIA provides a complete array of reporting for all current and proposed regulations, such as reporting of high-risk issues with remediation techniques and full documentation for defending website accessibility.

SELF-PACED TRAINING COURSES:

The Bureau of Internet Accessibility offers self-paced training courses to help clients educate their staff and become more self-reliant. Your team can access the training module from anywhere at any time and complete the course at a pace that fits their individual schedules and training aptitude.

INTERACTIVE TOOLS & MONITORING:

Save time and reduce your team's frustration with instant identification of your website accessibility issues according to each standard, including ADA, WCAG 2.1 A/AA, AODA, and Section 508. BoIA constantly monitors your website for accessibility issues, and any found are identified and prioritized by compliance risk factor and reported to your website's administrator, allowing your team to address the high-risk concerns first. Each issue can be overlaid on the actual web page with the specific line of code identified and suggested remediation and examples displayed.
